Your First Days

You may feel a little bit sad when your mummy and daddy leave.

Your teachers will help you to feel better by finding toys to play with and books to read.

You won't be at school for a long time and your mummy and daddy will be back to pick you up very quickly.

If you are worried, you could ask your mummy or daddy to draw you a little picture to keep safe in your pocket, or you could each have a piece of a puzzle that fit together again when you see each other.

You may want to bring a small toy to keep in your bag to help you feel happy.

Your teachers will help you to meet new people and there may even be some children you already know!

You will have lots of fun at school.
