Topic: Knowing me, knowing you – Settling in
Next week's focus: Full time routines
The children have managed their independence really well this week by saying goodbye at the steps. Please keep your child with you until the door is open and not allow them to round around the car park and in between cars. The children this week have done really well with their lunchtime sessions and it has prepared them very well for the routine, ready for next week. Next week children will begin attending school full time and merge together as a full class. We will continue reinforcing the routines of school and introducing more areas both in the classroom and outside.
Important Dates / Reminders   = Information            = Requires Action          <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>  • Drop of and pick up time from 21st September is 9.00am – 3.15pm.         </li> <li>  • Next week we will be returning to a normal lunchtime menu with hot meals provided. You child has come home with the menu today for you to discuss with them to help them make their choices.         </li> <li>  • Your child has also come home with a free book the Book Trust, which is for them to keep at home and enjoy.         </li> <li>  • If you have not provided your child with a pair of wellington boots that they can keep at school, please can you send them as soon as possible. Children have started to use the mud kitchen.         </li> <li>  • Please continue to support your child with their own independence at home, by practicing dressing and undressing and putting on their own coats.         </li> <li>  • Today your child has brought home their 'Special Book.' Inside the cover is more details on how they are used. This weekend can your child decorate the cover ONLY. They can use stickers, draw pictures, add photos, it's up to them and then return on Monday.         </li> <li>  • If you are dropping other children to school, please remember they can all be dropped at the latest time. This is to avoid parents gathering in the car park at times when other years groups are dropping off and collecting to maintain social distancing. Therefore, only arrive at the time your child is due to start. This also applies at pick up time. Teachers will hold onto your children if they are due to finish earlier.         </li> </ul>
